Writing Exercise

Write a piece about the toilet paper shark you created by completing the following clauses:

My shark can be found.... (Think geographic locations, water depth, what other species it might interact with...)

My shark eats.... (Think about how it captures its prey too!)

My shark is different from other shark species because....

My toilet paper shark is called....

Writing Exercise

Use the answers to the questions on the previous page to write a news story introducing your new shark species to the world. Once completed, Facetime a friend or family member to share and show them your shark!
